WEDNESDAY, MAR. 7.

There is some talk of going back to the viva voce way of voting. God send the day.

The Indiana Republicans are outspoken before the Porto Rican Bill. McKinley has torn his trousers.

Hon. John K. Hendrick will likely be a delegate from the State-at-large to the National Democratic Convention.

There is a warm fight in the Kentucky House over the passage of the McChord bill. There is some doubt as to the outcome of the measure.

Henderson wants a Government building. A delegation from that city appeared before the House Committee on Public Buildings a few days ago.

The Kentucky Legislature will adjourn in eight days. It has been quite an active body, although but few bills have been passed. An extra session will likely be called.

The arguments in the Governmental contest, before Judge Field, closed last Saturday. The lawyers submitted briefs Monday, and a decision will be it thought, handed down next Saturday.

Mr. Harris, the Republican member of the Kentucky House of Representatives, was his contest over Mr. Combs, Democrat. Several Democrats voted in favor of the Republican. Mr. Harris is from Madison county.

A gentleman who stands in with his party informs us that from his best information Hon. M. Roy Yarberry will name the census takers for Adair county. He is entitled to the patronage, and we trust the report is correct.

Representative Cantrell, of Scott, and Mr. Blair, of Lexington, had a little bout last Friday.
There were some war-like advancing upon the part of Cantrell, but the peaceable evacuation upon Mr.
Blair's part prevented bloodshed.

The war in South Africa is not over yet. It is thought the hardest fighting is yet to come. It has cost the British thousands of men and millions of money, but they will yet conquer a people that should have been left undisturbed.

Taylor has sent two carloads of army equipments, including two Gatling guns, five cannon and quantities of ammunition, to London, Ky. He will probably locate in that town after the close of his unenviable career at Frankfort.

Three of the most prominently mentioned Democrats for Gov-nor are Gen. Joseph H. Lewis, of Barren, Judge Herschel Goodnight, of Simpson, and W. T. Ellis, of Davies. They are all good men, either of whom would unite the

The Republicans of this State and especially the Republican press are keeping up a terrible racket in regard to the contest, doing their utmost to arouse prejudice against the contestants and the Democratic party. The great cry is "Taylor was elected and the Democrats had no right to contest." Then they proceed to talk about the contest as being strictly partisan, and that the proceedings are outrageous, and then they seek to create the impression on the public mind that Republicans would have gracefully submitted had the count of the votes given the Democrats a majority, regardless of how small it may have been. This plea may be believed by some, but we attach no weight to it whatever. The truth is, they had openly and boldly announced before the election that Goebel would never be Governor and if elected he would never serve. To our mind their own statements clearly indicated that they intended to try to control at all hazards and costs, and Taylor's actions from the beginning of the election down to the present is one bulk of threats and blunders which in part has been verified. Now, we do not hear any mention from Republicans but indicates that the most gigantic fraud is now being perpetrated so that any political party over attempted, but here is a few cold facts and figures, we clip from one of our able exchanges, that ought to show that the leaders, at least, of the Republican party are not yet so mighty pure and free from party prejudice and are the beneficiaries of contests tried before partisan boards where they had the power:

"Commencing with the Forty-seventh Congress and coming down to the present time there have been ten Congresses, five of them Democratic and five Republican.
Within that time 124 contests have been brought before the House; of these 80 have been Republican and 44 Democratic. As a result the Republicans have succeeded 38 Democrats and the Democrats 13 Republicans. In the Fifty-fourth Congress ten Democratic members were unseated by the Republicans. One of these Democrats, on the face of the returns, had over 3,000 majority, another over 5,000 and another over 1,500. In the Fifty-fifth Congress the Republicans "fired" three Democrats and in the Fifty-sixth two more were given their walking papers. One of these had over 6,000 majority on the face of the returns."

With such a party record the Republicans, Kentucky Republicans especially, should not be too severe in their denunciations when a contested election case goes against them. Mr. Taylor only claims to have a majority of 2,900 votes on the face of the returns; and in several counties where he obtained large majorities comes the charge that illegal ballots were used. If the ballots were not legal then Taylor's majority was not legal no difference if it had been 50,000. In other localities the State soldiers were called out when there was no demand by the voters of said counties. If Government of Kentucky must go to a man whose party has trampled under foot the election law to obtain his election, whose partisan friends have threatened annihilation of every power that opposed them, and who have resorted to dangerous threats that have been so pitifully fulfilled, then we believe that Kentucky is in a bad shape. It is in a bad shape, and the Republican party that has been crying, stop thief, must shoulder the responsibility.
The impression they have sought to make, that they would submit had the case been reversed, is, to our mind, as false as could be.
They never submit when they can gain a point. Their history is crowded with many proofs to the Legislatures of State to the Presidency, and death-bed repentances do no good to the world.

The Republican leaders of the House are still shaking from the fright given them by their narrow escape from a humiliating defeat on the Porto Rico tariff bill. The figurative sack cloth and shoes of Ash Wednesday came very near to being read for them on that day.
They amended the bill by reducing the tariff from 25 to 15 per cent, which representative Berry aptly said merely changed the crime from grand to petty larceny, and limiting its operation to two years, which was an acknowledgment that the whole principle of the bill was a wrong one, and then they could not get the votes needed to pass it without resorting to every known form of political bull-doing and cajolery.

Had the Republicans of the House voted their real sentiments the bill would have been defeated by more than a two-thirds vote instead of being passed by a vote of 172 to 161. The constitutional question involved in this bill will not down. It will be heard when the bill is taken up in the Senate.

The Horse Cave Times states that the citizens of Adair county met and endorsed the action of Gov. Taylor. This is not correct if intended to convey the impression that said meeting represented the prevailing opinion of the citizens of this county. A small gathering of Republicans met and passed a few flimsy resolutions of that nature, but they do not voice the sentiment of the county.

A. R. De Fluert, editor of the Journal, Doylestown, Ohio, suffered for a number of years from rheumatism in his right shoulder and side. He says:
"My right arm at times was entirely useless. I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and was surprised to receive relief almost immediately. The Pain Balm has been a constant companion of mine ever since and it never fails."

In the War

Comrade S. H. Burtis of Lexington, Ill., had some thrilling experiences, but none so thrilling as his experience of his late heart trouble. He says:

"I had severe palpitation of the heart for years. My physicians said I was liable to drop dead any moment.
Fainting at times would be 15 to 20 minutes and I could scarcely breathe. I grew worse under doctor's care and began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.
It gave me prompt relief, and today I am in good health."

There is some kind of disease among the cows in this county. Many of them are sick. They seem to catch plenty, but can't get about.

Prof. F. M. Schellinger, an experienced piano tuner, is at the Hancock hotel for a few days. If your instrument is out of repair call and see him.

The farmers are now anxious for fair weather, in order that an opportunity may be given them to prepare their grounds for the coming crop.

A Bluff & Son have an "ad" in today's News. They are handling fertilizers, and ask the farmers to give them a call. They have splendid brands.

A little four-year-old daughter of Mr. Tyler Bryant was burned to death last Thursday. She was standing by a stove when her clothing caught, burning her to a crisp.

Coffey Bros., exhibited their string of horses, all by Red Squirrel, last Monday. They are all beautiful and good actors, and were very much admired by the crowd.

Corn and hay in Adair county is getting scarce. The former product is selling at $3.00 per barrel, and it is said the latter will be $1.00 per bushel in a very short time.

Our Gradyville correspondent speaks of the serious illness of G. M. H. He died Monday night. He was 58 years old, and one of the best citizens in the Keltian country.

Coffey Bros., invite the public to call and see their noted saddle horse, Kentucky Squirrel. He has not only proven himself to be a show horse, but one of the best breeders in the State.

Tom Taylor, of Color, who lives near White Oak, was before Judge Butler last Saturday morning, charged with seducing his cousin. He was held over and went to jail in default of a $250 bond.

Monday was county court. A very good crowd in town, and business fair. Some stock changed hands and several tracts of land were knocked off to the highest bidder by Commissioner L. B. Harts.

While other people of Columbia were busy doing a lively business last Tuesday the News office came in for its share. We received a number of jobs and put quite a number of new names on our subscription list.

Hon. W. F. Neat has removed to the farm he recently purchased near Gradyville. There is a small dwelling on the premises, but we understand Mr. Neat will erect a convenient residence this summer.

George Skipper Smith, who has done much service on the rocks in Columbia, was shot by a negro named Hayden at Lebanon last week. The wound is not dangerous. George is a bad man and it is only a matter of time when he will get a fatal dose.

Deputy United States Marshal Thompson came into Adair last Saturday. Near Gradyville he arrested Thos. Coomer, charged with selling liquor unlawfully and carried him to Louisville, he being held over by Commissioner Winfrey, of this place.

Died in Texas.

I received a letter from Texas not long since stating that Mr. W. P. Nalley, better known as "Parker," died at his home in Alaska, Texas, a few days ago, with a cancer on tongue. He was well-known to the citizens of Adair county, having been born and reared here.

In the year 1887, he sold his farm near Cane Valley, and with his family moved to Texas. Mr. Nalley had many in Adair friends, who will be sorry to hear of his death. He was a member of the Christian Church. He leaves a wife, one son and one daughter. His mother died Jan. 3, 1900. Mr. Nalley was buried at Itaska by the Woodman.

NOTICE.

We will leave in a few days for the wholesale market, where we expect to select the nicest and prettiest stock of millinery goods that has ever been brought to Columbia. We invite all to come and see our goods before buying.

MES. TIM BRADSHAW.

MES. EFFIE BRADSHAW.

The Masons of Columbia are looking forward to an interesting time, beginning Monday, the 10th of this month. Columbia Chapter, No. 3, R. A. M., is to be reorganized and the degrees will be conferred upon fifteen or twenty Master Masons. The work will be done by the Grand High Priest of Kentucky, assisted by a number of companions, members of the Lebanon Chapter. Master Masons who are in good standing and desire to take the degree will never have a better opportunity to receive them. Mr. James Garrett, Jr., has the paper, and those who have not signed and desire to do so, are requested to call at his office or notify him by letter. It is hoped that Master Masons from Jamestown, Gradyville, and other points will come into the new organization.

The Christian church was crowded to overflowing Sunday night, it being Ed. Z. T. Williams' last appointment before starting to Palestine. He spoke from the 4th chapter and 18th verse of Genesis, drawing pictures from the life and character of Jacob. While Mr. Williams was in a sad mood—leaving family and friends—starting on a long journey, his sermon was interesting and close attention was given throughout the discourse. At the close of the sermon many persons went forward and made their vows. We trust that he may have gained a safe return home.

The friends of Mr. W. H. Hudson, who has been confined to his home with rheumatism for several weeks, were glad to learn that he had returned. He has been active in trading circles for many years, and can tell the weight of a steer at a glance, and the value of a horse. He informed us that the man that he was improving rapidly, and hoped to be himself again in a few days. He induces the course of the business at Adair, and will be ready and entirely willing to vote the party's candidate for Governor if matters not who he may be.

Rev. W. H. Foley, who lives in Monroeville, Mo., was in Columbia last Friday night en route to his home. Mr. Foley is a native of Russell county, and for some years he has lived in the vicinity of his native place. He has been away from Russell county twenty years, but having a fondness for his home he paid the scenes of his earlier days a visit. In order to keep up with the future doings of his old friends he subscribed for the News, to be sent to his address.

We understand that C. M. Breeding will remove to Texas as soon as he can settle his business affairs. Mr. Breeding was born and reared in Adair county, with the exception of one term he served the people as a show horse, but one of the best breeders in the State.

A representative of the News was in Louisville last week and was agreeably surprised to find our friend and countryman, Mr. C. Neat, doing business in The Big Store. Mr. Neat is a fine salesman, strict in business affairs and is proving his worth to his employers. We doubt if a better sales man can be found in the immense establishment. If you go to Louisville call and see Mr. Neat, salesman No. 11 first floor.

There is some talk of building a pike from Gradyville to Columbia. The road has been started by the Gradyville people, and from the way a gentleman expressed himself in this city a few days ago, they are certainly in earnest. There is no reason why this piece of road should not be built, and we believe this town, and the people along the line, will lend helping hands.

Mr. J. W. Starnes, who is representing the Knoxville Nursery Co., in this county is having a fine sale, and we can cheerfully recommend both Mr. Starnes and the Nursery as being correct. Adair county should have more fruit and there is no better source to buy from. We feel safe in saying that you can get what you need from Mr. Starnes and that any business done with him will be satisfactory.

The subject of Rev. T. F. Walton's sermon for next Sunday morning will be "The Foundation or the Source of True Greatness." It will be directed to the young people, and it is hoped that all will attend.

A STRANGE DISCOVERY.

A Lost Tribe of Eskimo Has Been Found

The strangest anthropological "find" recorded in the last decade of the nineteenth century is nothing less than the discovery on a lonely island in Hudson bay of a lost tribe of Eskimo—a community which has been without intercourse with other representatives of the human species for centuries, and whose members never saw a white man until a few months ago. They are still in the stone age, knowing no metals; they grow no plants, and their houses are built of the skulls of whales.

The home of this strange tribe is on Southampton island, a piece of water-terra firma nearly as big as the state of Maine, situated at the north end of Hudson bay. Apparently the people have dwelt there ever since pre-Columbian times, and today they live and subsist in exactly the same way as they did then.

Having been isolated for so long a period, it is natural that they should exhibit many peculiarities. A superb collection of utensils, weapons of the chase and other objects, made through the agency of Dr. Franz Boas, has been brought to New York in a whaling vessel and deposited in the Museum of Natural History.

The houses of skulls, more properly described as huts, are built by putting together the great jaws of right whales, which are covered over with skins. In the middle of this primitive dwelling is an elevated place on which stands the inevitable stone lamp, employed for lighting, heating, cooking, melting snow, drying clothes and in certain arts. It is nothing more than an open dish of whale oil or seal oil, with a wick of dry moss soaked in fat.

The whale is the chief means of subsistence of these strange people. They use the whalebone in a variety of surprising ways, making even their cups and buckets of it by bending it into rounded shapes and sewing on the bottoms. Many of their implements are of whalebone, and from the same stuff they manufacture toboggan-like sleds.

They make sledges with walrus tusks for runners and deer antlers for cross pieces. It would be hard to find more daring hunters than are they, the seal, the walrus and the wary caribou contributing to their game bags. The tribe comprises only 58 individuals, about equally divided between the sexes. Its members speak a dialect peculiar to themselves and quite unlike that employed by any other Eskimos. A strait about 30 miles broad separates Southampton island from the western shore of Hudson bay, where there is a colony of Eskimo, and once in a very long while the strait freezes over. This happened, it is said, 75 years ago, and then a few hunters came over from the island to the mainland, where they were much surprised to encounter other human beings like themselves, having doubtless imagined that they were the only people in existence.

This is now a tradition with the natives on the mainland, who say that the strangers brought two sledges with them, but went away again and never returned. Neither before nor since has any new come from the lost tribe until recently.

On Southampton island there is no soapstone, which among the Eskimo is elsewhere the favorite material for pots and kettles. Hence the people of the lost tribe are obliged to seek their necessities out of bits of limestone, fused together in volcanic eruptions with a mixture of grease and deer blood. In the same way they manufacture their tamps, and this fact is another evidence of the prolonged isolation of the community described, inasmuch as Eskimos, when they can obtain no soapstone in their own neighborhood, will pay any price to get it from some other more fortunate tribe.

The story of this shut-off tribe of Eskimos parallels the tradition of the famous lost colony of Norsemen, which, as recorded in the sagas and in Norse folk lore, was cut off in Greenland 600 years ago. To match this notable discovery in the frozen north, another very strange ethnological "find" has just been made by Mr. George H. Pepper, who, like Dr. Boas, is connected with the American Museum of natural history. This is nothing less than the turning up in northern New Mexico of deposits representing what may be termed fossil make dances—in other words, monuments of ceremonials of this description which were venerated perhaps 1,000 years ago by the ancestors of the modern Moki Indians.

The Dog's Advantage.
Diplomats' dogs are not allowed to be muzzled in the District of Columbia. This, comments the New York Herald, the dog has more liberty than his master.

Gracious Flattery.
There is nothing that flatters a young housekeeper quite so much as to have an older woman ask her for recipes.—Athens Globe.

ETIQUES OF THE BAR.

A Fine Point Concerning the Defense of Criminals.
At Worcester the other day a case occurred which raises the question of the ethics of the profession of the lawyer. An accused wished to be defended; several barristers were offered to defend him, and all declined because he was sure to be convicted. When Justice Mathew heard this he was indignant, and after his observations one of the counsel who had refused the prisoner's brief defended him and the man was acquitted.

This reminds one of the question of the morality of the profession of the advocate. The leading case in England on this point is that of Sergeant Phillips in his defense of Courvoisier, the murderer of Lord William Russell. It was said that he pledged himself in court as a believer in the innocence of his client, the accused having written his confession in his pocket. As a matter of fact, on the first day of the trial Sergeant Phillips suggested that the murder might have been committed by another servant of Lord William. On the second day Courvoisier told his counsel that he was guilty and required him to continue his defense. In those days no one judge sat, as a sort of assessor, in capital cases, and Sergeant Phillips had the presence of mind to lay the matter before the assessor judge. His lordship decided that in those days the duty of the sergeant to continue the defense, but to avoid any statement that would be inconsistent with his knowledge of the prisoner's guilt. This Sergeant Phillips did, and the judge who had advised him approved of his line of defense.

Part of this story leaked out and the sergeant was abused as having professed his belief in his client's innocence, knowing him to be guilty. The sergeant did, indeed, know that his client was guilty, but he suggested nothing inconsistent with such knowledge after he had acquired it. But he is supposed to have practiced, and he would have been a lost man had not Lord Russell given him an appointment in the multiplicity court.—Chicago Daily News.

Exhausted on account of hunger and cold, Mrs. Polly Rymer, an aged woman, fell helpless upon the Norfolk and Western railway track near Rural Retreat, Tenn., and was run over and killed by a south-bound passenger train.

Neuralgia Bashed.
There is no more severe or stubborn pain than neuralgia. A remedy that will cure it will cure any pain, Dr. G. S. Stivers, dentist, Louisville, Ky., says: "My wife suffered over two years from very severe neuralgia, which several physicians failed to relieve. I then got Morley's Wonderful Eight, which relieved her in five minutes and soon effected a permanent cure. Free trial bottles at W. M. Bell, Jopka, Ky."

A military company of eighteen members was organized in the courthouse at Harrodsburg. The members will be thoroughly drilled by Capt. John Albright.

He Fooled The Surgeons.
All doctors told Renick Hamilton, of West Jefferson, O., after suffering 18 months from Rectal Fistula, he would die unless a costly operation was performed; but he cured himself with Doan's Anemia Sive, the best in the world. Surest Sile cure on earth. See a box at T. E. Paul's Drug Store.

The anti-Greek Democrats of Cincinnati nominated L. L. Cressy, of Covington, for State Senator in opposition to the regular Democratic nominee.

An Australian savant has declared that the human brain contains a "name center." He says that it is the office of this cell to retain names. A striking case which would seem to confirm this theory recently occurred at Cleveland. A brakeman was shot by a conductor, and the former could not remember the names of persons or things, although he could perfectly well describe the functions of all articles exhibited to him. The surgeon probed for the bullet and found it in the exact spot necessary to affect the remembrance of names, according to the Austrian's theory. When the pressure on the brain had been relieved, the patient remembered names as well as he had done before his injury and told the name of his assailant.—Scientific American.

Bicycles in China.
Owing to obstruction of the narrow streets of Soochow, China, by rich young Chinamen using bicycles, the district magistrates have forbidden the riding of wheels by any except foreigners and missionaries.

Folk of Lost Account.
Folk who are of the least account in the world seem to be the most afraid of accidents.—Washington (La.) Democrat.

Vegetarian Shoes.
Vegetarians who are so strict that they do not care to wear an article of clothing into which any animal properties are introduced are catered for in the boot line by a London bootmaker, who is the inventor of a vegetarian shoe. For some years he has been experimenting, and as the result he has produced a boot in the construction of which there is absolutely no paper or leather of any description. Not only this, but according to his assertion, these wear one-third longer than leather shoes, and the upper material is always soft and never cracks.

Ed Hayden, at Lebanon, shot, and it is thought, fatally wounded George Smith, a Columbia negro, whom he found at his home when he returned at night.

My mother suffered with chronic diarrhoea for several months. She was attended by two physicians who at last pronounced her case hopeless. She procured one 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and five doses gave her permanent relief. I take pleasure in recommending it as the best on the market.—Mrs. F. E. Yarnon, Aiken, Ala. Sold by M. Craven.

Brill, the young son of Charles M. Davis, a prominent farmer, was found unconscious in the road near Caseyville. He had gone to Caseyville on a horse, the animal coming home later unhurt. The boy died after being carried home.

A. R. De Pluett, editor of the Journal, Doylestown, Ohio, suffered for a number of years from rheumatism in his right shoulder and side. He says: "My right arm at times was entirely useless. I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and was surprised to receive relief almost immediately. The Pain Balm has been a constant companion of mine ever since and it never fails." For sale by M. Craven.

Joe and James Greer, two young men, are in jail at Boston, charged with the murder of an old negro man in a horrible manner.

It is very hard to stand idly by and see our dear ones suffer while awaiting the arrival of the doctor. An Albany, (N. Y.) druggist called at a drug store for a doctor to come and see his child, then very sick with cramp. Not finding a doctor in the left hand to turn to, he caught at once on his return. He also caught a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which he hoped would give some relief until the doctor should arrive. In a few hours he returned, saying the doctor need not come, as the child was much better. The druggist, Mr. Otto Scholz, says the family has since recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their neighbors and friends until he has a constant demand for it from that part of the country. For sale by M. Craven.

John Henderson, a well-known farmer at Robertson county, dropped dead at Mt. Olivet.

Smallpox has broken out at Maysville, Mason county, among the colored people of the town. The schools have been dismissed.

We have saved many doctor bills since we began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our home. We keep a bottle open all the time and whenever any of my family or myself begin to catch cold we begin to use the cough Remedy, and as a result we never have to send away for a doctor and incur a large doctor bill, for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy never fails to cure. It is certainly a medicine of great merit and worth.—D. S. MEARLE, General Merchant and Farmer, Mattie, Bedford county, Pa. For sale by M. Craven.

After an illness of several months, Mrs. Robt. W. Agnew died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. E. McCraw, in Henderson.

Mos in quantity, Best in Quality.
Morley's Sarsaparilla and Iron is a tonic, a blood purifier and a blood maker. It does not stop with merely curing certain diseases, like scrofula, sores, abscesses, etc., but cleanses and builds up the whole system. All who have tried it say there is more cure in one bottle of Morley's Sarsaparilla and Iron than in six of any other kind. Sold by W. M. Bell, Jopka, Ky.

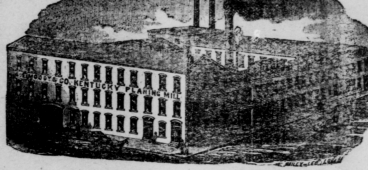

The Democrats of Owen county met at the courthouse and drafted lengthy resolutions on the death of Dr. William Goebel, also condemning W. S. Taylor for his many outrageous acts.

Itch, Red Blood.
Morley's Sarsaparilla and Iron not only purifies your blood but makes new, rich, red blood. If you have skin eruptions, boils, abscesses, rheumatism or scrofula, or if you have a run-down, tired-out feeling, try this remedy and note the prompt results. $1.00 per bottle. Sold by W. M. Bell, Jopka, Ky.

It is stated that the National committee decided that Mr. Bryan, if renominated for president, will not make a personal canvass of the country as in 1896, but confine his speeches to delegations that shall visit him at Lincoln, Neb. The reasons given are that his views on all subjects are known and that there is a popular prejudice against a presidential candidate making a canvass of the country.

EXPOSURE TO WET & COLD

It is proven disastrous to many women. Wet feet and damp clothing chill the entire system and the delicate female organs are at once affected. Pains, Profuse, Suppressed or Obstructed Menstruation, Whites, Pains in the Yomb, or some other health-destrorying disease is almost certain to follow such exposure, unless proper precautions are taken.
